SCHOOL NEWS

Kia ora koutou katoa,

Greetings everyone,

Well it's been nice to have some milder weather lately and even some sunshine with a little heat! Our students love running around outside so they're enjoying it as well.

Academic results worth celebrating!

Having finished mid-year reports and with those reports containing a lot of data to analyse, it is worth celebrating the academic achievements of our students.

Currently, 91% of our students are 'at and above' in the reading area. 84% of our students are 'at and above' in mathematics, while 79% of our students are 'at and above' in writing. These are fine figures indeed and are a real credit to our teaching team and our hard working students!

Encouraging resilience in our students

In this day and age, with the world being as competitive as it is and with the changing complexities of society, it has become really important to create an element of resilience in our children. Without this resilience, children become young adults who potentially will 'crumble' at the first sign of hardship, and will also find it hard to survive when the 'going begins to get tough'.

At school we encourage resilience through numerous avenues, settling issues when they occur and putting them into the right context, urging our students to keep going when learning and exercise becomes difficult, and asking our students to try things even if they might not enjoy them. These are just a few examples, but they all collectively add up to attempting to give your children the power of resilience, which will help later in their schooling and further on in life.

As parents, working as a team with your school and determining your own ways to develop resilience on the home front, is the best way to aide your children. Also, continuing to reinforce with your child that failure when trying is absolutely fine, and that not trying at all is actually the biggest failure of all.

We have found that our Year 8's do well at college and I wholeheartedly believe that resilience and self-confidence are the two major reasons for this success.

New hoodies and polos have arrived!

This is just a reminder that our new school uniform has arrived. This is very similar to our current uniform, but is made of better quality material. These are in our office and orders can be taken now. There is no obligation to buy for now, it will be a 'gradual phase in'.

Costs— Shirts $40.00 and Hoodies $50.00

TERM THREE DATES

Te Kawau Soccer Tournament—Year 5-6

Week 3 – This Friday—4th August

A Year 5-6 soccer team has been chosen to take part in this tournament this Friday.

Te Kawau Soccer Tournament—Year 7-8

Week 4— Friday 11th August

A Year 7-8 soccer team will be chosen to take part in this tournament during Week Four of this term.

Zero Waste Environmental Programme

Week 6 – Wednesday & Thursday —23rd & 24th August

Our students look forward to this annual environmental programme run by Chris Symons from Zero Waste. It predominately focuses on solutions to issues we currently face, with regards to sustainability and resource use.

Rangitikei Tough Kids

Week 6— Friday 25th August

This event is open to students who are Year 3 and above and are prepared to train for what is a fun filled event! It is basically a muddy cross country with a number of obstacles added!

Bainesse Speech Competition

Week 7 – Friday—1st September

Our students will be working on pieces of writing which they will read out in front of their peers, to aide with their confidence when public speaking. Each class will then have a small number of students chosen, to take part in a school competition.

Te Kawau Speech Competition

Week 8— Friday 8th September

This competition is for Year 5-6 and Year 7-8 students. The winner of these categories from our school contest, will then go on to this event to compete against winners from the other schools within our cluster.

Bainesse School Production

Week 10 – Thursday—21st September

This will be the 'pinnacle event' of the term, as we all look forward to being part of another one of Mrs Reid's awesome productions! This will be held at Manawatu College on the evening of this date. Every student will be involved in this show and as such full attendance is required.

Agricultural Day

Thursday 2nd November, Term 4

This event is open to all students and preschoolers, who would like to enter a Calf, Lamb or Goat, born between 1st July and 15th Sept. All information was sent home with your child during the first week of term. Entry forms are attached.
